

HUMORS OF THE DAY.

Does a man break into humor when he cracks a joke?

It is no longer a matter of pride to have a high forehead. A cow has that, and she is very low-ly.

In union there is strength. "Poor Tom's a cold," but Tom and Jerry's hot. —Boston Commercial Bulletin.

The best description we have ever heard of a slow man was that he was too slow to get out of his own way. —Lowell Courier.

When the washerwoman calls for a young man's linen, does that make her a shirt caller? Neckst. —Steubenville Herald.

"Money makes my ma go," said little Skeesicks when his mother, armed with a $20 greenback, left for a down-town shopping tour.

Esquiver: Are plants in a sleeping room unhealthy? Not necessarily. We've seen some very healthy plants growing in sleeping rooms.

"Don't you think that Miss Brown is a very sweet girl?" asked Henry. "Oh, yes, very sweet," replied Jane; "that is to say, she is well preserved."

"Are you dead, Tim?" said an Irish father to his son, who had fallen down a well. "Not dead, father, but spache less," came up from the depths.

No woman e'er contented is,
No matter what she's got;
For when she builds a little house
She always wants a lot.

—Tracey's Irish Republican.

"It is poor taste to laugh at your own jokes," said Fenderson; "something I never do, though I do say it." "Does anybody else ever laugh at them?" asked Fogg.

A BROOKLYN man has just found his sister from whom he has been separated fifty years. She was the cook in his boarding house, and he recognized the style of her hash.

"Have you any faith in mince pie as a cure for headache?" asked one young married lady of another. "Yes," was the reply, "bring out your mince pie. I get mince-pie headaches regularly."

When Brown complained of a rush of blood to the head Fogg endeavored to ease his mind by reminding him that nature abhors a vacuum, and Brown's blood rushed to his head worse than ever.

"Man and wife are all one, are they?" said she. "Yes; what of it?" said he suspiciously. "Why, in that case," said his wife, "I came home awfully tipsy last night and feel terribly ashamed of myself this morning." He never said a word.

At a young ladies' seminary recently, during an examination in history, one of the pupils was interrogated thus: "Mary, did Martin Luther die a natural death?" "No," was the reply; "he was excommunicated by a bull." —Harvard Lampoon.

LITTLE EDITH was terribly sleepy the other night. She began her customary prayer upon retiring, but when she got as far as "Our Father," her eyes closed and her head tumbled on to the pillow. "I can't say it to-night," she said, "I'm too sleepy. He knows the rest of it."

A LECTURER was once in a dilemma which he will probably never forget. While talking about art he ventured the assertion, "Art can never improve nature." And at that moment some one in the audience cried out in a gruff voice, "Can't he? Well, then, how do you think you would look without your wig?"

"MEMORY is a wonderful thing," said Jack Miller to his friend Dan Watts. "Just think of what a fellow's head can hold! It's gigantic, sir—gigantic!" Watts—"I have often heard your friends say you have a very fine memory, Jack." Miller (flattered)—"Well, that's very kind. Yes, I have a pretty good memory." Watts—"Do you think you can recall the ten dollars I lent you three years ago?"

A VERMONT man who set a trap to catch a mink has already captured seventeen polecats, a coon and his own dog in it, and still persists in his designs upon the mink. Some men don't know when they're licked.

MADAME CHRISTINE NILSSON'S favorite amusement is shooting.
